

MYA MD AGM November 2019.

District Senior Measurers Report 2019

During 2019 there has been some regulation of the OM (official measurers) and we now have a reduced number in our district but as far as I can tell they are prepared to measure boats, although as noted previously some are only really interested in measuring boats from their own club.

There is apparently some moves afoot within the MYA to require some verification of measurers in the future, there has been talk of requiring them to attend an RYA sail measurers course or something similar, time will tell but I am of the opinion that course attendances will further reduce the number of measurers as some will not be prepared to incur the costs and time involved in courses.

We have to the best of my knowledge in the district 12 measurers including myself. We now need to await the outcome of the MYA AGM to find out what the situation is going to be regarding technical matters in the next year and ongoing from there.
